Plans Completed
For County Census

Final plans for having a Palm Beach County census taken under Federal supervision prior to the coming legislature, were approved last week by the county commission.

The need for a special census in this area, was sounded several months ago by State Senator Russell O. Morrow. Census figures determine the application of many state laws and population figures are also used in many instances to determine amounts of state funds which are returned to the county.

County Attorney Harry Johnston this week, reported that arrangements for the population count had been completed with the Federal Census Bureau, and that maps of all municipalities had been furnished the bureau for initial plans for the count.

The attorney recommended that the county make the required $5,000 deposit with the government and to have the county attorney and county engineer proceed with plans for taking the count.

The commission approved that action and Commissioner Lake Loyal said that funds for the census had been budgeted by the county last July and that with the start of the coming legislature, Sen. Morrow will introduce a bill to have the state reimburse the county for money spent on the census.

The purpose of the census, Loyal said, is to get a larger population figure which will mean greater returns for the county.

He urged city officials, chambers of commerce and civic clubs to give their full cooperation so that "every one can be counted."

Commissioner Paul Rardin said that action by the commission to take the census had been given favorable acceptance throughout the state and that many other county boards were planning like counts.

Band Concert
The Belle Glade High School Band welcomed quite a crowd to their second in a series of concerts, last Thursday night. They opened with a march "W. M. B." by R. B. Hall and some of the high spots on the program were "Overture in C major" by the Fls. State Band, which includes the local band. Also, "Arrangers' Halliday," which was "Twinkle, Twinkle Little Star," in various styles.

There was a trombone quartet, featuring Dick Dupere, Billy Tom Force, Bobby Willis, and Jay Freeman, which played "Intermezzo." "I'm Jes From Texas," narrated by Bill Van Landingham, with the band playing background music and assisted by the previous section, gave the crowd several laughs. These numbers plus many more brought the concert to a close, with "Second March" by Al Hayes. Don't miss the next concert which will be announced later.

Juniors Reach Goal
The Junior class of Belle Glade High School, reached and surpassed their goal of fifteen hundred dollars, on the magazine drive.

All totaled they made $1639.83, but only $358.53, clear, however, they beat all records set by previous junior classes.

The drive started Tuesday, January 12, and continued through Thursday, January 20th. It started off with a bang and over $500 was turned in the first day, then things slackened off and didn't pick up again until the last two days of the drive.

High sellers on the list were Willard Garrett, selling $131.25 worth, Joyce Burke, with $106.75, and Joanne Willis $102.25 worth.

The newly organized Glades Squadron of the Civil Air Patrol Cadets, sponsored a Red Cross drive, last Friday evening at the Country Club. It got under way about 8:00 p. m. with the Dixie Lily Musical Millers, which everyone seemed to enjoy, providing the entertainment.

The planning of the dance was left strictly up to the cadets, and they did a fine job. Lt. Leo James was the master of ceremonies, and the guest speaker was Col. Luther Dammern, of Ft. Lauderdale, head of directors of Cadets, for the state. Maj. Jim Lindsey, West Palm Beach, head of the Cadet Wing Staff, of Florida; and Lt. Gil Gabaldon, Palatka.

These speakers touched upon some of the high spots and the many opportunities of Cadet life, which includes the Cadet Encampment, and the Foreign Exchange, held every year.

The senior C. A. P. members and their wives were invited to the dance, too, and their company, Capt. Benny Williams, was introduced, along with the O. O. of the Cadets, Capt. A. E. Funderburk. Refreshments of Cokes and cookies were served to everyone.

Paul Sloan Is Sent To Training Center
Paul Sloan is attending the General Motors Training Center at Jacksonville, Florida to learn advanced automotive service techniques which he will use in his work at Lake Buick Co., Belle Glade, Florida.

Mr. Sloan, of 160 N. E. 4th Street, is spending two days at the Jacksonville school, one of a nationwide network of training centers being set up by General Motors to keep employees of its car and truck dealers abreast of new mechanical developments and service techniques.

A mechanic with Lake Buick company for 6 years, he selected the Buick course, taking advanced study in Rear Axle.

Bob Davis head of the company, said he sent Mr. Sloan to the Jacksonville center to give his customers the benefit of improved service techniques taught there.

The Jacksonville training center, with more than 23,000 square feet of floor space, has six specialized shop classrooms, for use by the Chevrolet, Pontiac, Oldsmobile, Buick, Cadillac, GMC Truck & Coach, Fisher Body and United Motors service divisions of GM. Each division supplies a highly trained instructor for its courses at the center, which is managed by Carl E. Quick.

GM officials expect a total of 500 mechanics to attend the center each year.

Harlow H. Curtice, president of General Motors, explained that the purpose of the centers is "to insure that the people who buy our cars and trucks will continue to receive the best possible service."

He said that "the centers will make it possible to receive a systematic basis with improved service methods and technological advances such as air conditioning, power steering, power brakes and other major improvements."

NEWS VIEWS

By E. D. DODG

A national magazine recently pointed out that the biggest threat to the world today isn't the H-Bomb... it's just plain bad manners. Every explosion in any situation starts with somebody blowing his top. That's as obvious as a thumb in your eye.

Most of the problems in our affairs and in our everyday lives would disappear like smoke in a high wind if we watched our manners... and tried to put ourselves in the other fellow's shoes. Domestic squabbles, problems of labor and management, friction between fellow workers, and a lot of highway accidents all happen because somebody said "Oh, yeah?" instead of "I'm sorry." There are still times when even good manners won't solve the problem, but they're sure worth a real try every time.

In Los Angeles a 240-pound man was arrested for stealing reducing pills. That's a weighty problem for the judge to consider. Pills for just about every health purpose are part of our business. You'll find that we stock nationally known brands of vitamin pills of every kind, for instance... and pills for everything from reducing to headache relief. Make this your "Health Center"... and see us for dependable prescription care, too.

"FLORIDA WILD FLOWERS"

by Mrs. Luther Jones

(A recent radio broadcast over WSWN sponsored by the Garden Club.)

Good Morning, how does your garden grow today? Ever since reading Helen S. Hull's wonderful book, "Wildflowers for Your Garden," I have been gathering and classifying wildflowers, and have found it a fascinating hobby. How many wildflowers do you identify? Have you ever thought of just how many different species of wildflowers are native and grown in these United States of ours? There are just about 40,000 known ones.

Someone asks just what do we mean by the term, "wildflowers," anyhow? Mrs. Hull states that the term "wildflower" should include any native flowering species. Some of our most beautiful are blossoms on trees and shrubs, especially here in Sunny Florida.

In Florida, spring comes before autumn ends. Late summer flowers and early spring flowers are found here together in December.

Here, in Nature's setting, something of interest can be found every day. All of the Mary Frances Baker in the revised edition of her book, "Florida Wildflowers," puts it so beautifully, "Nature's most successful alchemist would have known — works tirelessly here in winter as in summer, transmuting dull earth and air and water into fragrance and color and beauty. No other part of our country can show so great a variety in its wild flowers, and in no other state are there so many plants of strange habits and remarkable characteristics. More than three thousand species of flowering plants have already been listed as growing in Florida, and that vast number does not include the many cultivated plants. Northern flowers mingle here with the abundant southern flora, and in the country below Miami is a tropical flora, related botanically to the West Indies rather than to the United States."

In variety of size we have the great magnolia, whose perfumed flowers are larger than one's hand, and we have also the tiny woffia, smallest of known flowering plants, whose entire growth floating in the water is smaller than the head of a common pin.

A point of especial interest in the Florida flora is the abundance of those plants that have the extraordinary habit of catching and devouring small insects, thereby reversing the usual order, since insects only too commonly devour plants. More than 20 species of insect-catching plants are found in Florida. Then there are our many orchids and other air plants, that make the swamps and hammocks of southern Florida hanging gardens of beauty. Fastening their strange growth on the trees, and making use of a special diet of atmospheric dust, air and rain, they produce as brilliantly decorated spikes of bloom as any of our earth-growing plants.

The pleasures experienced in seeking through our fields and woods may be multiplied many times, over and above the pleasure of mere enjoyment of fresh air and invigorating exercise, if we have an acquaintance with the flowering plants which one finds along the way. We may say that we have a speaking acquaintance with wild flowers when we can call quite a number of them by name. This power of recognition gives us a sense of communion with Nature. And this sense is deepened, if it leads to a desire to know something about the plants themselves; their families, their mode of growth, their flowering period, their relationship with insects which visit them, their seeds and methods of multiplication, their favorite habitats, their geographical distribution, the roles which they play in art, mythology, and religion.

These are a few associations which flowers have with life in all its aspects will mean most to us after we have come to know the wild flowers which grow near where we live. The joy of wild flowers is partly in knowing them, partly in knowing that we shall see them again another year. Many of them belong so completely to the setting in which we find them that to pick them is to lose a great deal of their fascination, and in the case the less common ones to risk preventing their reproduction.

Instead of being one of the thousands that plant the same things in your garden year after year, take on a new interest, plant a wildflower garden!

Season Opens At Palm Beach Play House On Monday

This event was the culminating event of a six weeks contest to secure better training in Union attendance. Both attendance and enrollment increased during the contest which had as its object not to win "The Thing" a surprise award to the one department having lowest attendance. The prize was a 100 pound hog donated by Terry L. Driggers and awarded to the Intermediate. It was barbecued Friday and served at the dinner.
